

Sorting

Practice sorting. These activities will help your child spot similarities and differences between objects.

Grocery Store

When in the grocery store, notice how the aisles are organized. Which items go in which aisles?

Sort Objects at Home

Make opportunities to sort objects at home:

- Sort grocery items in order of size.
- Sort laundry by color, type, or owner.

Organize

Help your child organize their belongings. Sort by similar attributes. Group books by size, stuffed animals by color, and toys by type—cars, dolls, blocks, etc.

Read

Take a trip to the library or find books online. Look for books about sorting that you and your child can read together. Here are some books to consider:

- More or Less a Mess by Sheila Keenan
- Sorting by Henry Pluckrose

You can find these Waterford.org books and practice pages—and many more—in the Resources & Activities tab at mentor.waterford.org.

Waterford Books

You can find these books about sorting in the Resources & Activities tab at mentor.waterford.org.

- Buttons, Buttons by Elizabeth Lane
- The Birds, the Beast, and the Bat by Elizabeth Lane

